

WHERE IT
LEADERS
CONNECT

SIM DALLAS / FORT WORTH EMERGING CIO SIG

DATE: Wednesday, September 21
TIME: 6:00PM - 9:00PM
AT HILTON DFW LAKES: 1800 Hwy 26 East Grapevine, Texas

OUR PANELISTS

Jana Ahlfinger Bell
EVP and CFO for RMG Networks

Robin Weldon-Cope
Chief Operating Officer of United Self Help

Ginny Gray, Ph. D.
VP, Organizational Development
at Trinity Industries

Sharon Stufflebeme
Vice President at Pariveda Solutions

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON THE PANELISTS AND MODERATOR, PLEASE SEE BACK.

SIM | WHERE IT LEADERS CONNECT

The Emerging CIO Special Interest Group of the DFW Chapter of SIM provides relevant information, practical techniques and facts on what helps Practitioners emerge as CIOs. The SIG events will include peer problemsolving exercises, shared best practices, workshops, and speaker presentations. The SIG has an on-going series of programmed events, with members working side-by-side to aid career development. The goal of the SIG is to create an open dialogue among Practitioners, to share best practices and foster learning and promote networking and new relationships.

Sponsored by

IT WORKFORCE SOLUTIONS
FOR WHAT'S NEXT

Register for upcoming events at www.simnet.org in the Dallas/Fort Worth Chapter Page

OUR PANELISTS

Jana Ahlfinger Bell Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer at RMG Networks

Jana Ahlfinger Bell was appointed as executive vice president and chief financial officer for RMG Networks in April 2015. Before joining RMG, Jana served as the chief financial officer of EF Johnson Technologies, Inc. — a provider of secure communications solutions, from 2005 to 2015. Prior to that, she served as president and chief executive officer of Simple Products Inc., an early stage developer of innovative handset and network technologies for the disposable wireless market, from 2003 until 2005. Jana served as the chief executive officer, president and a director of @TRACK Communications, Inc., a provider of integrated wireless voice, data and location technologies from 1998 until 2002. Earlier in her career, she was employed in a variety of capacities by AT&T Wireless Services and by its predecessors, LIN Broadcasting and McCaw Cellular Communications, Inc. including vice president and chief financial officer of the Southwest Region. She practiced public accounting for Ernst & Young LLP, last serving as an audit manager, and is a certified public accountant. Jana holds a bachelor of business administration in accounting from Texas A&M University.

Robin Weldon-Cope Chief Operating Officer at United Self Help

Robin Weldon-Cope is an accomplished operations executive with over 15 years of experience. Robin is currently the Chief Operating Officer of United Self Help, a nonprofit organization. She is also a committee member for the Alzheimer's Association Dallas, TX Chapter. Her previous executive positions include Chief Operating Officer and Chief Consumer Engagement Officer at the Hawaii Health Connector where she directed the redesign and deployment its web application, and implemented sweeping organizational change. Before the Hawaii Health Connector, Robin served in an executive capacity on numerous occasions, structuring technology and operations, sponsoring change projects, and driving external and internal IT development aligned with business and customer engagement goals and objectives.

Dr. Ginny Gray, Ph. D. Vice President of Organizational Development at Trinity Industries

Dr. Ginny Gray, Vice President of Organizational Development at Trinity Industries, has helped transform Trinity's talent infrastructure. She identifies, integrates and continuously enhances talent management processes to ensure maximization of Enterprise-wide human capital to achieve Trinity's strategic vision. Many of these processes form the foundation for executive development, executive succession planning as well as business unit talent initiatives, which Dr. Gray leads. Dr. Gray has more than 20 years of experience leading organizational development initiatives. Prior to joining Trinity, she was the principal owner of Vehicles for Change & Growth. She worked with senior executives in a variety of industries translating organizational talent visions into customized solutions and practices. Client companies included manufacturers, building contractors, real estate developers, telecommunications companies, beverage distributors, restaurateurs, and defense contractors.

Prior to leading her own consulting firm, Dr. Gray worked as a senior consultant for Dallas-based management consultant firm, Batrus Hollweg International. Dr. Gray spent 10 years in the telecommunications industry before retraining and shifting her career focus to the world of organizational development. She holds a Ph.D. and a Master's Degree in the field of Counseling Psychology, from the University of North Texas. Her undergraduate degree is from Purdue University.

Sharon Stufflebeme Vice President at Pariveda Solutions

Sharon Stufflebeme has over 25 years of experience in IT in consulting and CIO roles. developing strategies and innovations that deliver significant business value. She focuses on working with senior executives to define and prioritize business initiatives aligning strategy with core values, people, process, and technology platforms. Sharon is active in the business community, speaking on panels for Gartner, Tech Execs, Evanta and HMG Strategy, speaking at technology conferences for AITP and SIM, speaking at industry conferences for Consumer Goods, Retail and Energy. Most recently, Sharon served as the CIO & CHRO for FTS International, an Oil Field Services organization, where she was responsible for all IT strategy and delivery, overhauling all major technology platforms, establishing a respectful, collaborative and results-oriented team culture, making significant improvements in technology and architecture planning, and driving technology operational excellence and security.

Randall L. Neal (MODERATOR) CEO & Owner of Randall James Monroe, Inc.

As Chief Executive Officer of Randall James Monroe, Inc., Mr. Neal has successfully recruited senior level executives in all functional areas of software, information technology, distribution, manufacturing and transportation. He has established client relationships, both nationally and internationally, with an impressive yet diverse group of companies — from top Fortune 500 corporations to pre-IPO and start-up venture capital backed businesses. It is noteworthy to mention that Mr. Neal spent more than 20 years in executive positions. His executive recruiting background includes six years as President/CEO of a consulting firm he founded in 1992. Before starting his own company, Mr. Neal spent 12 years as President/CEO of an internationally renowned, publicly held software company.

OUR SPONSORS

IT WORKFORCE SOLUTIONS
FOR WHAT'S NEXT

MDI Group helps IT organizations tackle "what's next" in terms of emerging technology projects and challenging business objectives by providing a full range of information technology staffing services and contingent workforce solutions that supplement in-house resources. MDI Group is located and has offices in Atlanta, Austin, Charlotte, Dallas, Fort Worth, Greenville and Phoenix.

Fuze is a global, cloud-based unified communications platform that empowers productivity and delivers insights across the enterprise by enabling simplified business voice communications, flexible video conferencing, and always-on collaboration. Formerly ThinkingPhones, Fuze allows the modern, mobile workforce to seamlessly communicate anytime, anywhere, across any device.